

Christina Michelle Pfeifer-Mattig

October 18, 1970 - October 9, 2022

Christina Michelle Pfeifer-Mattig, 51, "colon whisperer" and proprietor of Cleanse Chicago, passed away peacefully under the Full Hunter's Moon, surrounded by love, at home in Chicago's Pilsen neighborhood, on October 9, 2022.

Born in Florissant, MO, Christina graduated from The Knox School, Long Island, NY and earned her Bachelor's in Psychology from North Park University before embarking on her career as a colonic hydrotherapist and opening her own wellness center.

Soulmate and beloved wife for fourteen years of Carter Lindsay Mattig and loving mom of Lindsay Lee Mattig.

Cherished daughter of Deborah Lynn Arneson and Jeffrey John Pfeifer, awesome sister of Luke, A.J., and Jordan Pfeifer and Susanna (Brian) Freeman-Swerdlow. Loving step-daughter of Lee Casty and Sharon Hyink, dear niece of Maudie Pfeifer-Fox, Pat McCoy, Lisa Trojan, Lynda Pfeifer and the late Butch Pfeifer.

Incredible aunt of Alexander, James, and Jessica Freeman. Faithful companion of MeatyNeedyPetey the Pandemic Pitbull and Zeke the Wonderdog. Christina will be deeply missed by so very many devoted friends.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to a fund being established for Christina's final resting place. Think of it as VIP seats at a venue Christina would approve of... and Carter will get to join her! (eventually)"

“ My teen years were especially chaotic, my parents having relocating us from Illinois to New York. Trying to “fit in” wasn’t easy for me. I met Christy and we bonded immediately, both of us from the Chicagoland area. She was the most unusual and free-spirited soul I have ever met. She taught me that it’s ok to be silly, off-beat, eccentric and even messy sometimes, just as long as you stay brave and believe in yourself. She made her own way and I learned from her example to make the world fit ME. I’ve taken her loving, kindness and endless courage with me all of these years. I know wherever she is, she’s shining bright and brilliant!

“Carter, I am so very sorry for your loss. I remember Christina hanging on the Oak St beach so many moons ago. We all were so young and never had a care in the world. We all thought will live forever, no fear, no worries. She will be remembered always therefore living forever in the people she touched hearts. Rest in peace Christina.

“ Carter you don't know me. I graduated with Christy in 1988 at Knox. She was always smiling and full of light and love. She was a star and people were drawn to her everywhere. There was no one she didn't make happy! We spent several days together after graduation in the city. She made me feel special because she wanted to spend time with me. We had a blast. But everyone had a blast with her, that was her magic gift. She made everyone feel that way. She was beautiful! Simply stunning! But the best part was she was just as pretty on the inside! I'm a widow for four years now, my husband also fought the fight several times. I wish I could tell you it gets easier, it hasn't for me yet. But someone told me that this kind of grief stay with you, it walks beside you, and it does rear it's head on some days but you learn to walk with it. I don't know why that helped me, but it has. I could tell in all the photos she has always posted how incredibly happy you were together. So now she walks with you and some days will be harder than others, but when you have that special kind of love no matter how short, it kicks the ass out of 75 years of marriage because it's that special! So now she'll walk with you. She will forever be missed by more people than you can even imagine! My heart is with you and your family and friends!

Hi Heather this is Christy Mama .. I JUST read your love note of course this made me weepy but then so very many "things" do. N yes missing my amazing funny precious daughter continues to get harder, sadder, deeper...& yes you learn to "walk with this heartbreak by your side. The heart wrenching loss, the witnessing of ones beloved fight, tenacity, bravery ---all of it changes you completely---entirely it revires who you are how you see the world, how you move forward how precious the littliest of moments becomes... Nothing compares and now nothing in comparision to witnessing such courage worthy makes NOT investing in drama, negativity, "off" energy whatever absolutely not worth a second glance.

I will pray for you Heather..so very young for your husband to exit so exceedingly hard on your heart..

Hugs, Deborah Christy Mama

“My heart just aches for you, Carter. Take some measure of comfort knowing how much love and care she received from you. At least no regrets on that score. Take care, dear friend. xoxox Candace
