

Jayden Demetri Perkins

May 28, 2012 - March 13, 2024

Jayden Demetri Perkins, 11, of Chicago's north side, passed away March 13, 2024. Heaven's gain has left friends, families, and classmates devastated.

Jayden was a cherished member of both the Peirce Elementary and Gus Giordano communities. Jayden loved spending time with friends, playing sports, and performing. His infectious laughter and kind heart touched the lives of everyone he met.

Jayden was an exceptional young man, respected by his peers and admired by his teachers. He excelled academically, earning straight A's and consistently making the honor roll. He was also deeply involved in extracurricular activities, participating in cross-country, football, and the arts. Jayden had a passion for performing and theater, and he had the lead role in several school plays, including "Finding Nemo" at Peirce Elementary.

In addition to his academic and artistic talents, Jayden was known for his leadership qualities and compassionate nature. He was always willing to lend a helping hand and had a knack for resolving conflicts among his friends. His positive energy and enthusiasm were contagious, and he will be remembered fondly by all who knew him.

Ever so cherished son of Laterria D. Smith and Christopher L. (Alexis Newman) Perkins.

Jayden shared a special bond with his siblings Christopher Perkins Jr., Kameron Miles, and Makinzie Perkins. Beloved grandson of Shirese Turner and Amos Smith.

Adored nephew of Amber, Brian, Clinton, Quinton, Dewayne, Julian, and Keiron. Cousin of many.

Arrangements by Inclusive Funeral Care, 773-318-1305 or www.InclusiveFuneralCare.com.

Tribute Wall

AS

“ I never got to meet him but when I heard what hapened I cried i went to his school I was in 2nd grade we all were crying fly high jaden forever 11 long live jaden

Adelaide swyter - December 23, 2024 at 06:42 PM

JR

just thinking about him more lately. I miss my bestfriend.

Janiya Rodriguez - May 09, 2025 at 05:56 PM