Lynn Marie Murphy, 58, of Chicago's Old Town neighborhood, formerly of Schaumburg, passed away May 9, 2024.

Born in St. Louis, MO, Lynn graduated from Cor Jesu Academy and earned her Bachelor's in Finance and Marketing from Marquette University in Milwaukee. “ I met and became friends with Lynn at Cor Jesu Academy high school. She was smart and funny, an athlete and a talented dancer. We both studied French and were lucky enough to take a school-sponsored trip to France our Junior year. This trip established Lynn's love for travel and she later spent a summer exploring Europe. We were roommates in college at Marquette University in Milwaukee where Lynn excelled in her studies of business and French, played intramural volleyball, and on the whole, had a lot of fun. Family meant a lot to Lynn, and I know she was exceedingly proud of her two sons. Please accept my deepest condolences. Wishing you peace.

“ I knew Lynn at Cor Jesu - she and I were 2 of 4 people in our second semester senior year calculus class. We would study together and wonder why we didn't have the good sense to quit after one semester like everyone else! Lynn was very smart and worked hard to be an excellent student. We went to one of her dance recitals in high school - she was a gifted dancer as well! Lynn was a kind friend and a fun person to hang out with in and out of school! I was so sorry to hear of her death and will keep her and her family in my prayers. May she rest in peace!

Lynn and I went to grade school and high school together; we were close friends. I went on countless trips to the Ozarks with her family, she taught me how to water ski and always brought the best snacks for the car. We had weekend sleepovers and played softball and volleyball together. Lynn's dad was our softball coach. She was bright, sensitive and caring. She loved to stay up late and talk. Lynn excelled academically and attended Marquette University. I remember college road trips to visit her. I was heartbroken to hear of her death. Lynn and your family will remain in my thoughts and prayers.
